Thoughts From Your Principal...

Every parent everywhere: "How was school today?"

Every child everywhere: "Fine."

One of my biggest suggestions to families is to think about the questions you ask your children when they get home. A general question like, "How was your day?" often elicits a general answer like, "Fine." What you ask can help children look for the positives in their day. Questions can help them think about their behavior and their choices. What you ask can foster behaviors you hope to see. Maybe that is kindness to others, persevering when something is hard, helping a friend who is struggling, helping be a problem-solver, recognizing when they need to ask for help, etc.!

Below are some suggestions, taken from a website I found (listed below!). (Disclaimer: I have only viewed this article and liked it! I have not looked at any other content. 😊) https:// her-viewfromhome.com/50-questions-to-ask-your-kids-instead-of-asking-how-was-your-day/

1. Did you fill someone's bucket today? Did someone fill yours?
2. Who did you sit with at lunch?
3. Did you help anyone today? How?
4. Tell me something you learned today that you didn't know yesterday.
5. What made you feel proud?
6. When did you need help today? What did you do?
7. Does everyone have a friend at recess?
8. What would you like to learn more about at school?
9. What is the best thing that happened today?
10. If I called your teacher, what would she/he tell me about you as a student and as a friend?

Try a few! Moving beyond "fine" happen at all ages with the right questions!

Fondly,

Kristin W. Stolte

Art News!

Thank you to Linton students for working so hard to explore identity and culture through conversation, writing, and creating portraits and Linton landscapes. Kudos to all the students who have made the art classroom an active and comfortable environment by being safe, listening respectfully, following directions, cleaning up, and lining up on time. I also greatly appreciate students' families for contributing supplies to the art classroom and introducing yourselves at Back to School Night. Thank you, everyone!

These collages of Linton Elementary are by Raidan, Daleyza, and Alexa, three of Ms. Carlson's first grade artists.
